After "friend requests" were rejected by the user they get removed, but Facebook keeps them in the background.

When pokes get removed by the user, Facebook just marks them as "viewed" and keeps them forever.

"Deleted" messages just get marked as deleted, but are not remove from the systems. Facebook says that messages can never be deleted. This now includes all chat messages too.

Even after the users removes a friend Facebook stores the removal.
Removing a friend is in fact just moving it from one list to another.
